Account Management

Through an accessible, responsive and dedicated account management team, NewSat is committed to meeting every client's unique requirements and ensuring support is always available when needed.

Global sales presence

NewSat's global sales presence ensures every client can reach a member of the sales team 24 hours a day. This provides every business with the assurance that any questions that need answering, whatever time it is in the world, a NewSat sales person is available to answer your call and provide immediate action.

Size of NewSat

NewSat is big enough to respond to every client's diverse requirements yet small enough to be flexible and dynamic. Difficult or sometimes non-conventional solutions can be common for industries requiring satellite communications. NewSat can accommodate these requirements, enabling clients' businesses to operate efficiently and effectively, regardless of any exceptional conditions.

Same day response

NewSat's account management team is committed to responding to clients within 24 hours. Whether by phone or email, clients receive a same day response to questions and any problems are resolved promptly to avoid any disruptions to the business. NewSat's account managers provide clients with the understanding required to meet their individual requirements and the confidence they will receive answers and support when required.

Dedicated pre-sales engineering team

NewSat's dedicated pre-sales engineering team work with clients to design and develop solutions specifically tailored to meet individual industry, location and business requirements. NewSat's highly skilled pre-sales engineering team adopt the latest technologies and systems providing the best-suited solution to your business, enabling more efficient and effective communications.
